IN SUPPORT OF

LAND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Since time immemorial, this area, known by Indigenous peoples as Turtle Island, has been the homeland of the Anishinaabek people. This was true until the early 18th century and European “contact” after which it was named Muskoka, Parry Sound, Algonquin Park and the Ottawa Valley. Since contact, encroachment has forced the Anishinaabek onto small parcels of land controlled by the Federal Government. Today, with their enduring presence, the Anishinaabek still regard Muskoka, Parry Sound, Algonquin Park and the Ottawa Valley as their traditional territory. Families know these lands as the hunting grounds, medicine areas, and gathering places, related to them through oral history passed down for generations.

Please acknowledge the Regional Indigenous Nations and Organizations established in 1850 under the Robinson Huron Treaty and Bond Head Treaty;

- Wasauksing First Nation is situated on an Island with bridge access on Georgian Bay.
- Shawanaga First Nation is situated north of Parry Sound on the Shawanaga River.
- Magnetawan First Nation is located on the shores of Georgian Bay on the mouth of the Magnetawan River.
- Henvey Inlet First Nation is located on the shore of Georgian Bay and inland south of the French River.
- Dokis First Nation is located on the southwest portion of Lake Nipissing.

The Algonquins of Ontario assert they have rights and title that have never been extinguished over portions of the Ottawa and Mattawa River watershed as their territory has never had a treaty. The only Algonquin community recognized by the Federal Government is Algonquins of Pikwakanagan located on the shore of Golden Lake and the Bonnechere River. The majority of members live in non-indigenous communities.

Other Indigenous Nations and Organizations of this land include;

- Three Fires Confederacy – This is a historical alliance of three Anishinaabek Nations, namely, the Ojibwe, Potawatomi, and Odawa. For thousands of years prior to colonization, the Councils of these three Nations brought their “Council Fires” together for political purposes and to act as a deterrent to would-be aggressors. Their traditional territory stretched from present day Canada and into what became the United States. These Council Fires are still active today.
- Moose Deer Point First Nation, located in Georgian Bay Township, is a Potawatomi Community who originated in what became the United States. In 1830’s they were invited by the British to settle in Ontario and amalgamated with the Tri – Council First Nations.
- The Wahta Mohawks were displaced into Anishinaabek territory to their present location in 1881 by the Canadian Government. As a means to quell the original “Oka” land dispute, the Canadian government split the Mohawk community in Quebec and displaced half the people to Ontario.
- Moon River Métis Council - Established in 2005, the Council serves the interests of Métis People in the Parry Sound-Muskoka region and their head office is located in Gravenhurst.
- Parry Sound Indigenous Friendship Center – Established in the early 70’s this is an urban service organization that services First Nation, Metis, and Inuit people living in the district. They are located in Parry Sound.
- Haudenosaunee, also known as Iroquois, occupied the Simcoe County region for a period following the fur trade. In the mid 1700’s they were weakened by disease and driven out of this area by the Anishinaabek. The Haudenosaunee Confederacy is comprised of Six Nations, the Tuscarora, Mohawk, Cayuga, Onondaga, Seneca and the Onieda. The name, “Iroquois,” was given to them by the French and is considered derogatory.

We are encouraged to reflect on the Indigenous peoples who lived in harmony with these lands and waterways. We are encouraged to reflect on how colonialism and settler culture has impacted Indigenous Peoples and this environment. We acknowledge all Nations who continue to live, work, and play on these lands, and help us steward these lands in today’s society. We are encouraged to consider our individual role in a right relationship with Indigenous Nations and the advancement of Truth and Reconciliation.

ALGONQUIN OUTFITTERS MUSKOKA RIVER X

Since time immemorial, the areas west of the Ottawa River and east of Georgian Bay have been the homeland of the Anishinaabek people. These are the traditional territories of enduring Nations that continue their presence on these lands as hunting grounds, medicine areas, and gathering places related to them through oral history passed down for generations. The watersheds of these lands are vast and rich with abundant lakes interconnected by rivers and wetlands. Following the War of 1812 the British began searching for a waterway to connect the Ottawa River with Georgian Bay. On August 1, 1837 David Thompson led the last of these expeditions from what is now known as Penetanguishene, on the shores of Georgian Bay. He arrived three months later at what is now known as Arnprior, where the Madawaska River meets the Ottawa River. On September 14, 2024, teams are challenged to complete a 90km section of David Thompson's route as they traverse Algonquin Park, one of Canada's Premier Canoe Tripping destinations.

This season, River X is honouring the Canoe Tripper. Tripper Teams will paddle the quintessential canoe. Defined by its symmetrical hull with curved bow and stern, this elegant watercraft can be paddled in almost any condition. Powering the Canoe Tripper is the traditional paddle: wood with a straight shaft and straight blade. Canoe Tripper Teams will also demonstrate their backcountry abilities by completing a unique challenge as they compete for the title of Ultimate Tripper.

More of a Marathoner and less of a Tripper? River X has you covered with all of the traditional categories such as C2 Stock, C1 Stock, K1 and SUP. Returning for 2024 is the Voyageur Class, open to all teams.

Starting at dawn on the shore of Galeairy Lake, teams paddle west into the heart of Algonquin Park. Completing a true back-country experience of lakes, rivers, marsh and portages, teams must find their way home under the setting sun, navigating the mighty Oxtongue River.

No outside assistance. No re-supplies. No electronic navigation.

Considered by some to be the toughest single day canoe race in the world.
Your X-PEDITION is waiting.

VOYAGEUR CLASS

ARE YOU WORTHY TO BE A VOYAGEUR?

Voyageurs were the predecessor of today's long-distance shipping and supply companies. Paddling canoes filled with trade goods across the interior of the continent, their strength and endurance were legendary. Each voyageur worked at least 14 hours a day, paddled 55 strokes per minute, and could carry two bundles of pelts and furs weighing about 90lbs across each portage. A routine portage meant carrying 180 pounds across rugged terrain full of rocks, mud, mosquitoes and black flies. The Muskoka River X gives tribute to these legends with the Voyageur Class. By entering, you choose to transport a handmade wooden crate filled with locally crafted and sourced goods across Algonquin Park. Your reward for accomplishing this arduous task? Bragging Rights! And you get to keep the crate and all that it contains.

THE CRATE or wanagan is a locally handcrafted wooden box; 2'x1'x1' for Tandems and 1'x1'x1' for Solos. Crates are sealed prior to being issued at the start line, and must not be opened until the awards banquet. The payload in each crate comprises a selection of locally sourced goods and produce such as maple syrup, beer, dried meat, honey, chocolate or other unexpected gifts. All crates will be the same, proportioned for Solos and Tandems. Tandem crates typically weight 30+ lbs. The payload is packed in a water-resistant fashion and resistant to bumps and knocks, but should not be considered water-proofed or drop-proofed. Care must be taken to keep the crate dry and in good condition. As a Voyageur, you are responsible for any damage to the goods.

THE CHALLENGE is to successfully transport the crate from Whitney and deliver it to the finish line at Oxtongue Lake within the allotted time. The 1st Voyageur Team to successfully deliver their crate will be celebrated the winner, and a modern-day Voyageur. All Voyageur Teams will be celebrated at the awards banquet where they will open their crate and enjoy their Payload. Any watercraft category can participate. Voyageur Teams are ranked separately within this unique category. Prove yourself worthy and register for the Voyageur Class.

TRIPPER CLASS

ARE YOU THE ULTIMATE TRIPPER? Canoe Trippers are modern-day adventurers, analogous to the Voyageur. They have an affinity with nature, the wilderness, and a different pace and lifestyle not common within our contemporary reality. They choose water as their passageway, and are known to travel long distances, carry heavy loads, and relish adverse conditions. They take pride in their ability to sustain themselves with only the resources they carry. Canoe Trippers are often born into this culture of water-walking through summer camp, tripping with families, or through a chance encounter with adventure. For 2024, Muskoka River X gives tribute to the Canoe Tripper.

THE CHALLENGE is to successfully complete the 90km distance from Galeairy Lake to Oxtongue Lake in the time allotted. Trippers will paddle the quintessential tripper canoe and use a traditional wooden tripping paddle. Upon arrival at their destination, Teams will prepare their 2-person tent into livable conditions, including twin sleeping mats and sleeping bags. They will boil water using a camp stove and serve hot tea. All equipment needed to complete these tasks will be carried by the team throughout the entirety of the event. This mandatory challenge is part of the Tripper Class registration. Outside assistance and/or supplies are not permitted. The 1st Tripper Team to successfully complete these challenges will claim the title of Ultimate Tripper and be awarded a pair of handcrafted tripping paddles, sponsored by Badger Paddles.

THE FINE PRINT

The ALGONGUIN OUTFITTERS' MUSKOKA RIVER X is a long and demanding event. It is expected that you be in good physical condition and reasonable health. It is important that you are competent at paddling and have sufficient resources and experience for self-rescue techniques, first aid, and wilderness survival. You will be self-sufficient. You must carry all the supplies required to complete the event including food, hydration, and mandatory equipment.

The course covers remote flat-water lakes, marsh, rivers and portages. Water conditions can be unpredictable. The course travels long sections of river, downstream with current, with a mix of deep and shallow water. The route includes portages of various length that are remote with wilderness-based access points. Navigation is required and you are expected to be familiar with the use of a topographic map, grid coordinates and magnetic compass. Seasonal conditions are unpredictable and can change quickly. You may be exposed to wind, waves, rain, snow, heat or sub-zero temperatures. The course is remote in many areas with limited access.

Emergency response plans have been established. A satellite emergency transmitter/beacon system monitors your location and a Search and Rescue team is on stand-by; however, it is impossible to guarantee that you will receive immediate assistance should you activate your emergency beacon or request support via cell phone. Multiple factors affect the time-to-respond after an emergency notification is received. You must be prepared to support yourself for up to several hours until an emergency response team can access your location. In addition to the supplies you will need to complete the race you are expected to maintain supplies that will ensure your personal self-sufficiency and safety.
